LEADING IN THE RURAL HILL COUNTRY CENTERING OUR RIVERS

Rivers are central to both the history and future of our rural communities. Join us for a discussion of how we can get the most out of our rivers - culturally and economically - while stewarding them for future generations. Hear from professionals, volunteers, and residents from around the region who care deeply for Hill Country rivers and streams and learn new ways to appreciate and protect these resources.

This event will feature engaging speakers, time at the Frio River, and lots of opportunities to connect with others who keep our region's rivers in their hearts.
